Dear Parents / Guardians,

P3 Field-Based Learning Journey – HDB Gallery

As part of the Social Studies curriculum, the school is organizing a Field-Based Learning Journey for our P3s. Field-based learning refers to learning that extends beyond the walls of the classroom where students are exposed to real-world settings. Field-Based Learning also provides authentic learning experiences that can help students better appreciate the issues that they are inquiring into.

Our learning journey aims to achieve the following objectives:

Students will

- Develop an understanding of Singapore’s physical environment and how Singapore’s physical environment affects our way of life.
- Develop an appreciation for Singapore’s progress through understanding how living conditions have changed.
- Identify and understand how Singapore manages its resources to meet the needs of the country.
- Identify how people of Singapore have maximized land use to meet the needs of the country by changing the physical environment we live in.
- State Mr Lim Kim San’s contributions to public housing.
- Take the opportunity to demonstrate self-directed learning. That is to take responsibilities for own learning and questioning, reflecting and persevering in the pursuit of learning.

After the trip, students will work on a performance task that ties in with P3 Social Studies syllabus related to physical environment in Singapore.
